

EMAIL TEMPLATE — Conditional Approval

STAGE 03 · SENT WHEN UNDERWRITING CLEARS

Subject: Conditional approval — {{PROPERTY_ADDRESS}}

Hi {{BORROWER_FIRST_NAME}},

Good news — we've reviewed your application and budget on {{PROPERTY_ADDRESS}}, and you're conditionally approved. The approval is attached.

Please read it and check two things.

First, the loan terms on page 1. If our review changed anything from your original proposal, it's spelled out in the "Changes from Your Loan Proposal" section. Nothing else moved.

Second, the Conditions to Closing list. That's everything we need from you before we can schedule a closing.

What to send us

Work down the checklist and email us what you have. Most of it you already have on hand:

- Your LLC paperwork — Certificate of Formation, Operating Agreement, EIN letter
- Driver's license for each principal
- Executed purchase contract with any amendments
- Two months of bank statements showing your down payment funds
- Insurance binder naming Lazy Dog Capital LLC as mortgagee and loss payee

Send them as you get them — no need to wait until you have everything. We'll check items off and tell you what's still outstanding.

Two that usually take the longest. The insurance binder and anything you need from your CPA or attorney tend to be the holdup. Start those first.

Then what

Once we have everything, we order title and set a closing date. The loan documents get prepared and you'll sign at the title company.

This approval expires {{APPROVAL_EXPIRATION_DATE}}. If you need more time, just tell us.

Questions on any of it, call me.

NOTES

- The bulleted list is a plain-English preview, not the authoritative list. The Conditional Approval is. Keep the email short and let the document carry the detail.
- "Send them as you get them" is deliberate — borrowers who wait to assemble a complete package stall for weeks.
- The insurance line is worth keeping. It's the single most common cause of delay at this stage.
- Approval expiration — set the window when you settle that open decision (30, 45, or 60 days).
