The holdback is released to the borrower in draws as work is completed and verified.

ENCLOSED

- Recorded Deed of Trust
- Recorded Collateral Assignment of Note and Deed of Trust
- Lender's title policy (or commitment, with the policy to follow)
- Insurance certificate naming Lazy Dog Capital LLC as mortgagee and loss payee

WHAT HAPPENS NEXT

Monthly. You'll receive a statement showing interest accrued and paid. Payments go out on the {{PAYMENT_DAY}} of each month.

During construction. We inspect before releasing any draw. If anything material changes on the project, we'll tell you — we don't wait for the monthly statement to deliver news.

At payoff. You're paid your principal and any accrued return first, before Lazy Dog Capital receives anything.

Year end. You'll receive a Form 1099-INT.

Anything you want to know about the project, just call. We'd rather answer the same question twice than have you wondering.

Sincerely,

Name: _____

NOTES

- `{{CP_PAYEE_NAME}}` must match the W-9 and the Collateral Assignment.
For an SDIRA, that's the custodian FBO the account, not the investor personally — though the letter itself can still be addressed to the investor.
- The borrower's interest rate does not appear anywhere in this letter, and the Promissory Note is not enclosed — the Note shows the borrower's rate on its face. This applies to every investor-facing document.
- Watch the recorded Deed of Trust. If your Deed of Trust states the interest rate on its face, the enclosed recorded copy discloses it. Check before sending; if it does, either redact or send only the Collateral Assignment.
- No "term" language — "expected time frame," not "term."
- Priority is stated as "paid first," not as loss absorption.
- Send within one week of closing, while the recording is fresh and the partner is still wondering whether it happened.
